

From: "eLex 2019" <elex2019@easychair.org>
Date: 8 April 2019 at 18.44.56 EEST
To: Mika Hämäläinen <mika.hamalainen@helsinki.fi>
Subject: eLex 2019 notification for paper 46

Dear author(s),

we are happy to inform you that your submission titled "An Open Online Dictionary for Endangered Uralic Languages" has been accepted for demo presentation at eLex 2019.

You are invited to submit a full paper for the conference proceedings, more details on that will be available soon. If you decide to submit a full paper, please consider the comments from the reviewers when preparing it.

The registration is expected to open this week, we will send you a notification email once it does.

Looking forward to seeing you in Sintra

eLex 2019 organising committee

----- REVIEW 1 -----

PAPER: 46
TITLE: An Open Online Dictionary for Endangered Uralic Languages
AUTHORS: Mika Hämäläinen and Jack Rueter

Overall evaluation: 3 (strong accept)

----- Overall evaluation -----

demonstration
good overview of technique, outcome. Interesting aspects: the multilingualism of the MediaWiki platform which enables crowd-sourcing the lemmatising program.
Subject is in line with the theme 'smart lexicography' (linking dictionaries, developing API)

----- REVIEW 2 -----

PAPER: 46
TITLE: An Open Online Dictionary for Endangered Uralic Languages
AUTHORS: Mika Hämäläinen and Jack Rueter

Overall evaluation: 3 (strong accept)

----- Overall evaluation -----

This is an interesting and relevant proposal. The abstract is well structured (sufficient background, integration with existing resources and other projects, recent developments). The subject promises to gather interest among people interested in a range of topics (LRLs, lexicography of rich inflection languages, ML projects, crowd-sourcing ), and is well connected to this year's topic, smart lexicography (linked data, semantic web, API).