

“The Singing Bone”

Lecture-concert on prehistoric & medieval flutes, reed pipes and rattles

Friday, 21.11.2014, at 14–16

(Topelia, Unioninkatu 38, F115 Arla pro, University of Helsinki)

Researchers and instrument makers from Sweden, Germany, the Netherlands and Finland present their newly-made copies of ancient North European sound instruments. Reproduced archaeological finds include

- vulture bone pipe from Hohle Fels, Germany (35000–42000 BP)
- swan bone pipe from Antrea, Finland (9000 BP)
- animal tooth rattle from Skateholm, Sweden (6000–4300 BC)
- bone flute from Turku, Finland (AD 1400)
- etc.

Welcome,

Cajsa S. Lund, Jean-Loup Ringot, Annemies Tamboer and Riitta Rainio
